

"I wanted to go to McDonald Studio for my Senior Portraits because I heard about how much fun it was and how all the people there were such a blast to work with. The pictures on the brochures also helped with the final decision of where to go. I loved having Peter as my photographer! He is an awesome guy who knows what he is doing. Being the hilarious guy he is, it was so easy to relax and be myself. Some of my friends decided to let a family friend or relative take their Senior Portraits and after seeing my pictures, they all said they wished they would have gone to a professional. I wouldn't trade my Senior Portraits for anything. McDonald Studio was worth every penny spent!" Elizabeth Forsythe

"I enjoyed the exciting environment at McDonald Studio. My photographer Peter was fun and energetic. I loved how he made sure each picture was different. Peter was constantly making me laugh and he was able to capture all the different aspects of my personality. There was a realness to all of my photos, nothing fake about them. Throughout the entire process, my parents and I never felt rushed or pressured into purchasing more than we needed. Everyone was so patient and flexible. I think people should keep in mind that you only graduate once. Having your pictures taken at McDonald Studio is a fun and unforgettable experience that everyone should take advantage of!" Alandrea Pfeifer-Nailon

“Last year, McDonald Studio organized a Fashion Show to help raise money for the Students Against Destructive Decisions Programs for all the local schools. My friends and I spent a lot of time with the photographers and staff and I knew without a doubt that I had to go there when it came time for my Senior Portraits. It is easy to see that the studio not only cares about each individual client but our community as well. My parents and I were more than thrilled with my Senior Portrait Session. My favorite part was when I joked about taking some pictures on the roof of the studio and the photographer actually did it! I cannot thank McDonald Studio enough for making sure my Senior Portraits were one of a kind!”

Eric Gordon

“I chose McDonald Studio because of all the positive things my friends had to say about their Senior Portraits.

My photographer helped create such a fun photo shoot. There was no pressure or worries; everything was laid so back. Take into consideration the Road Rules Session. Taking pictures with my piano on the beach was a once in a lifetime experience my family and I will never forget. McDonald Studio offered me so many different variations of my pictures and after seeing the final product, the quality was above and beyond our expectations. My advice to future Seniors is to come with an open mind and enjoy yourself!”

Kristofer Kaizer